Progress, Innovation, and Connectivity

(Rock Island, January 28, 2020) — Bi-State Regional Commission Seeks Input for Future Transportation in the Quad Cities

Local officials are working with Bi-State Regional Commission staff to prepare an update of the Quad Cities Long Range Transportation Plan by early 2021. It will include transportation and economic goals, proposed transportation projects, and other infrastructure/development strategies. The Kick-Off Open Houses will take comments on what citizens want planned for transportation into 2050. To review the existing 2045 long range transportation plan, go to the link at <http://www.bistateonline.org/>.

Online Public Input Option

Additionally, residents can provide online comments if not able to attend these input sessions. Can't make a meeting? Give your transportation opinions online by visiting <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/QCMP02050>, through February 29, 2020.
